Dear Campus Community:

The safety and security of our employees, students and visitors is a top priority. We believe that providing a safe environment for students, faculty, staff and all campus visitors allows each person to focus their effort on their employment or education goals. We all share responsibility in this effort and depend on the cooperation of all people within our campus community. We have a dedicated group of employees who will listen, report and take the appropriate action in continuing our long history of having a safe place for our employees to work and our students to accomplish their academic goals.

We partner with local law enforcement in every campus location within the NWTC district to maintain a safe environment. Additionally, we have experienced security staff who are available to assist with safety and security issues, as well as being a liaison to our partner law enforcement agencies when their services are needed. We continuously evaluate our security policies, procedures, and systems to ensure we are current and operating at our highest level. NWTC has invested significant capital in camera monitoring, door access control systems and public address systems which are operated and maintained by our experienced security, facilities and information technology staff.

In accordance with the Jeanne Clery Disclosure of Campus Security Policy and Campus Crime Statistics Act (The Clery Act), I present the Annual Security and Fire Safety Report which provides important information related to institutional policies concerning campus security, crime prevention, reporting crimes, drug and alcohol abuse, sexual misconduct, bias-related crimes, and other important matters.

Please take a moment to review the following information so that we can continue to be safe and secure at all our locations. Thank you for your assistance and cooperation. We hope for long lasting success for all students, employees, staff and visitors.

Sincerely,

H. Jeffrey Rafn, President

Disclosure Statement

The Annual Security and Fire Safety Report (ASFSR) is a requirement for all Title IV colleges, meaning those who process U.S. federal student aid, such as Stafford Loans. This requirement stems from the Jeanne Clery Disclosure of Campus Security Policy and Campus Crime Statistics Act (Clery Act). The Clery Act indicates that all Title IV Colleges will compile an annual report describing policies, procedures and statistics regarding reported crimes within the College's geography. The ASFSR must be disbursed to all current faculty, staff and students, as well as providing a notice of its availability to all prospective faculty, staff and students. The ASFR is designed to inform Northeast Wisconsin Technical College community members of crime, arrest and referral statistics, crime response, reporting procedures, prevention and education policies, including policies on sexual assault, domestic violence, dating violence and stalking, campus discipline, relevant state law, and campus safety and security services. The statistics in this report include crime, arrest and referral statistics for the previous three calendar years, specific to all Northeast Wisconsin Technical College campus locations, including off-campus buildings or property owned or controlled by Northeast Wisconsin Technical College, and on public property within, or immediately adjacent to and accessible from campus. The ASFR also includes fire safety statistics and protocols specific to The Orchards Student Living.

This report is prepared by the Northeast Wisconsin Technical College security department. NWTC Security collaborated with several College divisions, including Student Services, Student Advancement, Talent and Culture (Human Resources) and Title IX, among other departments. Additionally, local law enforcement agencies in all Northeast Wisconsin Technical College locations assisted in the compilation of this report.

Statistics are gathered through reports to the Northeast Wisconsin Technical College Security, the Dean of Student Development's Office, Title IX coordinators, Talent and Culture (Human Resources), as well as other campus security authorities. Northeast Wisconsin Technical College also requested crime statistics from local law enforcement agencies that have jurisdiction over campus and non-campus property. A copy of this report is disseminated through email to faculty, staff and students by October 1st of each fall semester. Crimes included in this report are classified using the FBI Uniform Crime Reporting Handbook and the 2016 Handbook for Campus Safety and Security Reporting. Wisconsin Law is used to define drug, liquor and weapons violations, as well as incidents of domestic and dating violence.

All policies, procedures and resources described in the report apply to all locations unless specifically noted. "Separate campus" locations include:

- Green Bay Campus (Main)
- Marinette Campus
- NWTC Sturgeon Bay
- NWTC Aurora
- NWTC Crivitz
- NWTC Luxemburg
- NWTC Oconto Falls
- NWTC Shawano
- NWTC Sister Bay
- Green Bay Artisan Business Center
- North Coast Marine and Manufacturing Training Center Marinette

Copies of the Annual Security and Fire Safety Report can be obtained by contacting Security Manager Philip Schaefer in room CO309 or by phone at (920) 498-7147. The Annual Security and Fire Safety Report can be accessed via the internet at: https://www.nwtc.edu/about-nwtc/departments/safety-security.

Campus Security

Security Department

NWTC Security consists of a manager, security specialists and security officers. The team of officers have years of experience in law enforcement and corrections, but the team is also comprised of students in the public safety program who gain experience prior to entering full-time careers.

The security manager serves as the liaison between all NWTC campuses and local law enforcement. The security manager is also responsible for Clery Act compliance, emergency preparation and management, the Security Advisory Team, policy and procedure, the emergency operations center and incident response.

The security specialist is responsible for the day-to-day operations of NWTC Security for all district locations and buildings. This includes training, scheduling, case investigation, camera monitoring system, security assessments, employee badge access and door locking schedules.

Security officers are led by retired law enforcement professionals who work rotating morning shifts with the remaining staff comprised of student officers. Duties of NWTC security officers include preventative patrol, personal escorts, lock/unlock rooms upon request, response to incidents and case investigation. On the Green Bay campus, security officers are staffed when the building is open (6am – 10pm generally). Security officers at the Marinette and Sturgeon Bay campuses are staffed at various times during the normal business hours and weekends, as needed. All campuses are equipped with a security camera system which allows multiple users across all campuses access the visual camera feeds in order to monitor activity district-wide.

NWTC Security personnel have the authority to enforce College policy, but do not have the authority to make arrests or detain subjects unless there is a threat to their own safety, or the safety of others. Security Officers have jurisdiction to operate on NWTC owned or controlled property. NWTC has a close working relationship with all local law enforcement agencies in which NWTC owned or controlled property exists in their jurisdiction. NWTC has Memorandums of Understanding (MOU) with the following agencies, describing the working relationship, which includes the sharing of information and duties of the law enforcement agency and NWTC to investigate certain crimes.

Memorandums of Understanding (MOU) exist with the following agencies:

- Green Bay Police Department
- Brown County Sheriff's Office
- Oneida Police Department
- Marinette Police Department
- Sturgeon Bay Police Department
- Door County Sheriff's Office
- Florence County Sheriff's Office
- Luxemburg Police Department
- Oconto Falls Police Department
- Shawano Police Department

Crime / Incident / Emergency Reporting

NWTC encourages accurate and prompt reporting of all crimes to the NWTC Security and other appropriate local law enforcement agencies when the victim of the crime elects to or is unable to do so.

Campus Security Authorities (CSAs), according to the Department of Education Handbook for Campus Safety and Security Reporting (2016 Edition), are defined as:

- A campus police department or a campus security department of an institution
- Any individual or individuals who have responsibility for campus security but who do not constitute a campus police department or a campus security department
- Any individual or individuals who have responsibility for campus security but who do not constitute a campus police department or a campus security department
- Any individual or individuals who have responsibility for campus security but who do not constitute a campus police department or a campus security department

Crimes and emergencies that occur on campus should be reported to NWTC Security at (920) 498-5699 or 5699 from an internal phone or by calling 911 (no need to dial 8 for outside line from internal phone) to contact local law enforcement, fire or emergency medical services. NWTC Security has a duty to evaluate all crime reports for the purpose of making a Timely Warning Notice or Emergency Notification. Additionally, reported crimes may potentially be included in the annual crime statistics, as well the Daily Crime Log. For these purposes, criminal offenses should be reported to the primary CSAs:

• Security Manager – Philip Schaefer

Room: CO308

Phone: (920) 498-7147

Email: philip.schaefer@nwtc.edu

Dean of Student Development – John Grant

Room: SC240A13 Phone: (920) 498-6984 Email: john.grant@nwtc.edu

Title IX Coordinator – Kelly Schumacher

Room: SC229D

Phone: (920) 498-6390

Email: kelly.schumacher@nwtc.edu

NWTC encourages all students, staff and visitors to report crimes so that any occurrence can be evaluated appropriately for compliance with the Clery Act, inclusion in the annual crime statistics and issuance of an Emergency Notification or Timely Warning Notice.

Response to a Report

NWTC Security is available to take reports during open main campus hours (6am - 10pm). A security officer may meet with the reporting party in person or conduct an initial investigation by phone, if necessary. All victims and reporting parties are encouraged to complete an incident report found at:

https://www.nwtc.edu/about-nwtc/departments/safety-security/file-an-incident-report-or-sexual-misconduct-compl

Crimes and / or violations of student conduct will be evaluated by NWTC Security and the Dean of Student Development's Office for review of student conduct with respects to possible disciplinary action. When appropriate, or at the request of the victim, NWTC Security will report crimes to local law enforcement agencies for criminal investigation and possible prosecution. The student development office or Talent and Culture (human resources), including Title IX investigators, may take an investigatory role depending on the nature of the crime and the parties involved.

Confidential Crime Reporting

For the purposes of including crime statistic disclosures in the ASFSR and to initiate an investigation, NWTC directs people to report Clery Act crimes to NWTC Security, the Dean of Student Development or the Title IX Coordinators, although people may report crimes to any CSA. NWTC may be obligated to investigate when there is a report of sexual assault, domestic violence, dating violence and/or stalking and to involve local law enforcement in that investigation. NWTC's response to these crimes will be victim-centered, with consideration given to the choices of the victim to continue an investigation or involve local law enforcement.

The text field in the incident report does not require the writer to enter a name, but in order to follow-up on the reported incident, a name is required, which assists in record keeping and assuring appropriate action is taken. Reports must include sufficient information to allow for an investigation, including location and nature of the incident, to determine if the incident occurred on Clery Act geography, is defined as a Clery Act crime and is to be included in the annual crime statistics. For those seeking to make confidential reports, NWTC employs licensed professional counselors who will keep your information private at your request. (See next section)

Professional and Pastoral Counselors

"Professional Counselors," when acting as such, are not considered to be a CSA for Clery Act purposes. Professional counselors at NWTC are encouraged, if and when they deem it appropriate, to inform persons being counseled of the procedures to report crimes to the security manager for inclusion in the annual disclosure of crime statistics.

Professional Counselor: An employee of an institution whose official responsibilities include providing psychological counseling to members of the institution's community, and who is functioning within the scope of his or her license or certification.

NWTC does not employ "Pastoral Counselors" as defined below.

Pastoral Counselor: An employee of an institution, who is associated with a religious order or denomination, recognized by that religious order or denomination as someone who provides confidential counseling and who is functioning within the scope of that recognition as a pastoral counselor.

Emergency Notification and Timely Warning Notice

The NWTC Alert system is used to provide both Emergency Notifications and Timely Warning Notices to students, faculty, staff and visitors. NWTC Alert consists of a variety of media that includes email and text messaging through Rave Wireless Inc., InformaCast public address, social media / web postings and local news broadcast. NWTC may utilize some or all these media depending on circumstances and appropriateness. Students and staff are automatically enrolled in the NWTC Alert system email notification and text messaging, if a mobile phone number was provided during enrollment or at the time of hire. NWTC Alert is an opt-out system, but students and staff at separate campuses must opt-in to each campus's notification group to receive messages directed to a specific campus. Students and staff are also able to test the notification system by contacting the NWTC Security at (920) 498-5699.

Emergency Notification

In the event of an emergency, NWTC will initiate and provide, without delay, immediate notifications to the appropriate segment(s) of the College community upon the confirmation of a significant emergency or dangerous situation involving an immediate threat to the health or safety of students, employees and visitors. NWTC Security, facilities and regional learning center staff are primarily responsible for confirming an emergency in conjunction with campus administrators, local first responders and the National Weather Service.

NWTC will consider the safety of the community, determine the content of the notification and initiate the notification system, unless issuing a notification will, in the judgment of the first responders (including, but not limited to: NWTC Security, local law enforcement, and/or the local fire and emergency medical services), compromise the efforts to assist a victim or to contain, respond to, or otherwise mitigate the emergency. If NWTC leadership and security department, or designee, in conjunction with other College administrators, local first responders and/or the National Weather Service, confirms that there is an emergency or dangerous situation that poses an immediate threat to the health or safety of some or all members of the NWTC community, NWTC Security and public relations will generate a message and will use some or all of the systems described above to communicate the threat to the NWTC community or to the appropriate segment of the community, if the threat is limited to a particular building or segment of the population. NWTC grants the authority to issue an Emergency Notification to any employee to ensure that the campus community will be informed as soon as possible to provide each person the best opportunity to maintain their health and safety.

The content of the message will vary depending on the situation. At a minimum, the messages will describe the emergency, provide basic instructions to the NWTC community, and will direct them to where they can receive additional information. Follow-up information will be distributed using some or all of the identified communication systems listed above, as directed by the College president and executive leadership team. The local news media may be utilized to disseminate emergency information to members of the larger community, including neighbors, parents and other interested parties. The larger community can also access emergency information via the NWTC homepage and/or social media.

Timely Warning Notice

In the event a crime is reported, or a situation arises, within NWTC Clery Act geography (on-campus, public property and non-campus property) or off-campus, that, in the judgment of the security manager and in consultation with responsible authorities, including the College president and executive leadership team, constitutes a serious or continuing threat, a Timely Warning Notice will be issued. This warning will be at the discretion of the College president (or designee). Timely Warning Notices will be distributed as soon as pertinent information is available, in a manner that withholds the names of victims as confidential, and with the goal of aiding in the prevention of similar occurrences. This report will consist of as much information about the offender(s) and locations(s) of the incident as possible to keep students, staff and visitors safe, but will may also be limited as to not compromise an ongoing investigation.

Timely Warning Notices are typically issued for the following Uniform Crime Reporting (UCR) / National Incident Based Reporting System (NIBRS) crime classifications:

- Murder / Non-Negligent Manslaughter
- Aggravated assault (cases involving assaults among known parties, such as two roommates fighting which results in an aggravated injury, will be evaluated on a case-by-case basis to determine if the individual is believed to be an ongoing threat to the larger NWTC community)
- Robbery involving force or violence (cases such as pick pocketing and purse snatching will typically not result in the issuance of a Timely Warning Notice, but will be assessed on a case-by-case basis)
- Sexual assault (considered on a case-by-case basis depending on the facts of the case, when and where the incident occurred, when it was reported, and the amount information to NWTC Security). In cases involving sexual assault, they are sometimes reported long after the incident occurred, thus there is no justification to distribute a Timely Warning Notice to the community. All cases of sexual assault, including stranger and non-stranger / acquaintance cases, will be assessed for potential issuance of a Timely Warning Notice.
- Major incidents of arson
- Other crimes as determined necessary by the security manager and executive leadership.

Timely Warning Notices may also be posted for non-Clery Act crime classifications and off-campus locations, even though not required by the law, at the sole discretion of the College president. Timely Warning Notices are typically written and distributed through collaboration between executive leadership, public relations and NWTC Security.

The public information officer (Vice President of College Advancement) and public relations staff will create and disseminate the messages through all appropriate communication mediums available at the NWTC locations affected, such as mass e-mail, text messaging and website / social media postings. Dissemination may be accomplished through the assistance of informational and instructional technology (IIT), security or other staff members trained in the various media formats. At this time, the segment or segments of the campus community that will receive notification will be determined.

NWTC is not required to issue a Timely Warning Notice with respect to crimes reported to professional or pastoral counselors.

NWTC tests the NWTC Alert systems annually to ensure the system is in working order and that important messages are received by students and employees. These system tests include the public address system and Rave Wireless Inc.

Emergency Response and Evacuation

NWTC maintains an emergency response plan (ERP) that identifies the action steps to be taken during a variety of situations. NWTC Security, along with the facilities department, is responsible for confirming a report of an emergency on campus. For confirmation purposes, the following personnel will be primarily responsible to make an initial assessment:

- Security Manager
- Security Specialist
- Security Officer
- Director of Facilities
- Maintenance Manager
- Lead Mechanic
- Safety Coordinator
- Mechanic

In the absence of facilities or security personnel, other employees may need to confirm a reported emergency. Those positions located at a separate campus, or non-campus location include:

- Campus Dean
- Campus Manager
- Office Supervisor
- Facilities or Maintenance Mechanic

The purpose of the emergency procedures outlined in the plan is to provide protection to life, property and operations through the effective use of community, county and state resources. This document has been developed to provide an organizational and procedural framework for the management of emergency situations. The plan also provides for the coordination between the government and other emergency units. The plan does not cover every conceivable situation; however, it does supply the basic administrative guidelines necessary to cope with most emergencies. The development and administration of this ERP will be the responsibility of the College president or his/her designee. The security manager will be designated to serve as the emergency director during any major emergency or disaster. The following definitions of an emergency are provided as guidelines to assist in determining the appropriate response:

- 1. MINOR EMERGENCY: Any incident which will not seriously affect the overall functional capacity of the College, such as minor plumbing problems or an inoperative elevator.
- 2. MAJOR EMERGENCY: Any incident which affects an entire building or buildings, and which will disrupt the overall operations of the College. Examples might be a building fire or chemical spill. Outside emergency services will probably be required, as well as major efforts from local public safety or campus support services.
- 3. DISASTER: Any event or occurrence which has taken place and has seriously impaired or halted the operations of the College. In some cases, mass personnel casualties and severe property damage may be sustained. A coordinated effort of all campus-wide resources is required to effectively control the situation. Outside emergency services will be essential. In all cases of disaster, the emergency operations center will be activated, and the appropriate support and operational plans will be executed.

Types of emergencies covered in the ERP:

- Fire
- Tornado / Severe Weather
- Bomb Threat
- Chemical or Radiation Spill
- Medical and First Aid
- Explosion
- Gas Leak
- Civil Disturbances/Demonstrations
- Violent or Criminal Behavior
- Elevator Malfunction
- Psychological Crisis
- Power Failure
- Airborne Release

Testing of NWTC emergency response and evacuation procedures occurs annually on each campus in order to identify gaps and inefficiencies. Testing may occur using functional or tabletop exercises. NWTC also utilizes a Critical Incident Response Team (CIRT) to assist with the manpower needs of emergency situations. CIRT members are College employees who volunteer to obtain training and assume additional responsibilities during emergency situations. CIRT members are assigned radios and backpacks to assist in carrying out these additional duties. They are easily identified by their high visibility vests, which are required when CIRT is activated. Green Bay, Marinette, and Sturgeon Bay campuses utilize CIRT capabilities and procedures, but due to the size and manpower of individual regional learning centers, CIRT may not be available. Regional learning centers use general emergency response procedures. Employees are provided with an emergency procedures quick reference guide, which are generally located near campus phones. Testing of emergency response and evacuation procedures will be documented by the security manager. Documentation will include the type of exercise, description of the exercise, date and time of the exercise, whether the exercise was announced or unannounced and an objective evaluation of the outcome.

The authority to declare a campus state of emergency rests with the College president or his / her designee. When this declaration is made, access to the campus may be limited to registered students, faculty, staff and employees at the discretion of the president. Those who cannot present proper identification showing their legitimate business on campus will be asked to leave the campus. Unauthorized persons remaining on campus may be subjected to arrest in accordance with Wisconsin state statutes and local ordinances.

In an emergency, there are generally two actions that students, staff and visitors will be directed to complete: evacuation or lockdown (shelter-in-place or at designated weather shelter locations).

Evacuation Procedures / Guidelines (General)

At the sound of a fire alarm or if you are instructed to evacuate, leave your work area immediately and proceed to the nearest exit, and leave the building. If you are the first to recognize a fire situation, activate the alarm, evacuate to a safe location using the nearest exit, and notify NWTC Security at (920)498-5699 or dial 911.

- Remain calm
- Do NOT use elevators / use the stairs
- Assist the physically impaired. If he / she unable to exit without using an elevator, secure a safe location near a stairwell, and immediately inform NWTC Security or the responding fire department of the individual's location
- Proceed to a clear area at least 300 feet from the building (preferably to your vehicle) in the case of a fire alarm or proceed to leave campus completely to a safe location in the event of an emergency situation where the campus is deemed unsafe. Keep all walkways clear for emergency vehicles

- Make sure all personnel are out of the building (security / CIRT)
- Do not re-enter the building until and "All clear" message is received through "NWTC Alert"

Lockdown / Shelter-in-Place Guidelines (General)

If an incident occurs and the immediate area around you becomes unsafe, or if the air outdoors becomes dangerous due to toxic or irritating substances, it may be safer to stay indoors as leaving the area may expose you to that danger. Thus, to lockdown or "shelter-in-place" means to make a shelter of the building that you are in. In a violent intruder event, locking down may be the best course of action initially, but as circumstances evolve, escape or evacuation should be considered. If police or fire department personnel are on the scene, follow their directions. A lockdown or "shelter-in-place" notification may come from several sources, security, executive leadership, other college employees, local law enforcement or other authorities utilizing emergency communications tools. How to lockdown or "shelter-in-place":

- If you are inside, stay where you are. Collect any emergency shelter-in-place supplies (look for rooms with emergency supply kits mounted near the door) and a telephone to be used in case of emergency. If you are outdoors, proceed into the closest building quickly or follow instructions from emergency personnel on the scene.
- Locate a room to shelter inside. It should be an interior room without windows or with the least number of windows. If there is a large group of people inside a building, several rooms maybe necessary.
- Shut and lock all windows (tighter seal) and close exterior doors.
- Turn off air conditioners, heaters, and fans.
- Close vents to ventilation systems as you are able. (College staff will turn off the ventilation as quickly as possible.)
- Make a list of the people with you and ask someone (hall staff, faculty, or other staff) to call the list in to NWTC Security so they know where you are sheltering. If only students are present, one of the students should call in the list.
- Make yourself comfortable.

Campus Assessment, Response and Education Team (C.A.R.E)

The C.A.R.E. team serves as a cross functional behavioral intervention team focused on prevention and early intervention of campus situations involving students experiencing extreme distress or engaging in harmful, threatening or disruptive behaviors. The team is made up of staff from student services, counseling, learning, and security. Team members are trained to recognize and address student conflict management issues. The team may utilize various methods and strategies in dealing with student concerns. Students who meet with this team may be required to meet one-on-one with a team member, may be asked to meet with the entire team, or be referred to a mental health professional, either employed by NWTC, or someone from an outside agency. The intended result is a plan for student success, ultimately being mindful of the student's best interest.

College Access Control and Building Security

NWTC uses a card access locking system comprised of online and offline locks. This allows for greater access control throughout the district and allows for a faster response when an access card is lost, misplaced or stolen. All access key cards are the property of NWTC and must be returned upon the request of the proper authority. Not all doors have card reader access. Those doors must be manually locked or unlocked. In the absence of security at any campus or building site, facilities personnel, campus management and instructors are responsible for ensuring doors are locked and the building is secured.

During business hours, NWTC will be open to students, parents, employees, contractors, guests and invitees. During non-business hours, access to all NWTC facilities will only be given to those staff needing to be in the building after hours as part of their regular job requirements (i.e., IT, facilities, Student Involvement, College sponsored events, etc.). Anyone needing access to the Green Bay campus during non-business hours not mentioned in the above statement or not normally granted after hour access will need to contact NWTC Security at (920) 498-5699. In the event access is required to any of the other NWTC campuses or NWTC regional learning centers, access may only be granted by the dean or learning center manager. Security officers routinely patrol the Green Bay main campus during the open hours of the campus, as well as overnight hours on weekends. Sturgeon Bay and Marinette campuses have assigned security officers who conduct patrols during assigned hours, but hours are limited and do not cover all open campus hours. Security presence at regional learning centers only occurs by request on an as needed basis.

Security Considerations Used in the Maintenance of Campus Facilities

NWTC maintains campus facilities in a manner that minimizes hazardous and unsafe conditions. Parking lots and pathways are illuminated with lighting. NWTC Security works closely with facilities management to promptly address burned out lights, as well as malfunctioning door locks or other physical conditions that enhance security. Other members of the College community are relied upon to report equipment problems to NWTC Security or to facilities management. NWTC uses School Dude software program to report and track facilities related issues. Additionally, NWTC employs a security manager who works with facilities and security on safety related issues throughout all campuses and locations.

Monitoring and Recording of Criminal Activity by Students at Non-campus locations of Recognized Student Organizations

NWTC does not have officially recognized student organizations that own or control housing facilities on-campus or off-campus. Therefore, local law enforcement is not used to monitor and record criminal activity since there are non-campus locations of student organizations.

Tobacco Free Campuses

To create a healthier environment for everyone, NWTC campuses are tobacco/nicotine free. NWTC is strongly committed to maintaining and improving the health and well-being of all employees and customers by complying with Wisconsin law. NWTC is a tobacco free campus at all locations, which includes all electronic nicotine delivering devices. Usage is prohibited on the premises (buildings, grounds, sidewalks, streets, parking lots and structures) or in College owned or leased vehicles.

Individuals may use tobacco or e-cigarettes in their personal vehicles; however, disposal of cigarette butts, smoking materials or garbage on campus grounds is strictly prohibited.

NWTC is committed to the health and wellness of students and staff and support the use of Food and Drug Administration approved cessation methods on campus (i.e., gum, lozenges, patches or medication). Electronic cigarettes are not an approved cessation device and will not be permitted. For information on cessation resources please see: https://www.nwtc.edu/about-nwtc/overview/policies/smoking-policy

Security Awareness Programs

NWTC provides for multiple education opportunities for students and employees to inform the campus community about campus security procedures and practices. NWTC encourages students, employees and visitors to be responsible for their own security, as well as the security of others. The security department is generally responsible for delivering these programs. Education programs include:

- Information table for all student orientation events
- Security presentations and updates at student senate meetings (bi-monthly meetings)
- Safety and security procedures posted monthly on specially designed displays (one per month)
- Security presentation to employees at new employee orientation (conducted bi-monthly)
- Customized presentations as requested by students or staff (variable times, depends on requests)
- Active shooter / violent intruder training employees (required for each new employee)

NWTC does not have a specific course of education for students and employees regarding crime prevention. Occasionally, NWTC Security will provide information and tips to the campus community, but do not provide specific, ongoing training opportunities in this area. The College does provide a best practices document to assist students in preventing theft of property. The document is located on the safety and security webpage at https://www.nwtc.edu/getmedia/a51fd6cd-cf31-4473-9c80-7e5d53d62599/Theft-Prevention.pdf

Drug Free Schools and Communities Act

In compliance with the Drug Free Schools and Communities Act, NWTC annually publishes information regarding the College's Drug Abuse and Alcohol Prevention Program (DAAPP) and provides that information to students and employees through annual disclosures sent via email. The DAAPP includes the following information:

- Standards of conduct
- Legal and disciplinary sanctions
- Associated health risks
- Campus programs and resources

A. Standards of Conduct

It is NWTC policy that the unlawful manufacturing, distribution, possession, or use of narcotics, drugs, other controlled substances or alcohol by students or employees is prohibited on college premises or as part of any college-sponsored activity. In addition, the manufacturing, distribution, sale, possession, consumption, use or transportation of alcoholic beverages, controlled substances, and illegal drugs and/or possession of drug paraphernalia by any student or employee on college property, college-sponsored student activity, or at NWTC-approved classes, field trips or activities off campus is strictly prohibited. This includes possession of alcoholic beverage containers. Law violations will be reported to local law enforcement for prosecution of federal and state drug and alcohol laws.

B. Legal and Disciplinary Sanctions

Local, state, and federal laws provide a variety of legal sanctions and penalties for the unlawful possession, use or distribution of illicit drugs and alcohol. These sanctions include, but are not limited to, incarceration and monetary fines. The illegal or abusive use of drugs and alcohol by students or employees may result in criminal prosecution by governmental agencies in addition to disciplinary action by the College. Disciplinary action could result in removal from campus and expulsion. Status as a student or employee of the College in no way protects a law breaker from criminal prosecution and punishment. The constitutional concept of "double jeopardy" does not prevent state and/or federal prosecution and disciplinary action for conduct that violates state, or federal law and college policy.

C. Associated Health Risks

Alcohol (beer, wine, or liquor) has a high potential for physical and psychological dependence and increased tolerance. Possible effects include impaired memory, slurred speech, drunken behavior, vitamin deficiency, and organ damage. Overdose may result in vomiting, respiratory depression, loss of consciousness, and possible death. Withdrawal may include trembling, anxiety, insomnia, vitamin deficiency, confusion, hallucinations, and convulsions. Females who drink alcohol during pregnancy may give birth to infants with fetal alcohol syndrome. Fetal alcohol syndrome causes brain damage and growth problems. The problems caused by fetal alcohol syndrome vary from child to child, but defects caused by fetal alcohol syndrome are not reversible. The severity of fetal alcohol syndrome symptoms varies, with some children experiencing them to a far greater degree than others. Signs and symptoms of fetal alcohol syndrome may include any mix of physical defects, intellectual or cognitive disabilities, and problems functioning and coping with daily life.

Narcotics (heroin, morphine, hydrocodone, oxycodone, codeine, and others) have a high potential for both physical and psychological dependence and increased tolerance. The possible effects of using narcotics include euphoria, drowsiness, respiratory depression, constricted pupils, and nausea. Overdose may result in shallow breathing, clammy skin, convulsions, coma, and death. Withdrawal may include irritability, tremors, panic, nausea, chills, and sweating.

Other Depressants (GHB or liquid ecstasy, valium, Xanax, Ambien, and barbiturates) have a potential for both physical and psychological dependence and increased tolerance. The possible side effects include slurred speech, disorientation, appearance of intoxication, and impaired memory. Overdose may result in shallow respiration, clammy skin, dilated pupils, weak and rapid pulse, coma and possible death. Withdrawal may include anxiety, insomnia, tremors, delirium, convulsions, and possible death.

Stimulants (cocaine, methamphetamine, and methylphenidate) have a possible risk of physical dependence and high risk for psychological dependence. Tolerance can develop in all stimulants. The possible side effects include increased alertness, excitation, euphoria, increased pulse rate and blood pressure, insomnia, and decreased appetite. Overdose may result in agitation, increased body temperature, hallucinations, convulsions, and possible death. Withdrawal may result in apathy, long periods of sleep, irritability, depression, and disorientation.

Hallucinogens (MDMA, LSD, Phencyclidine, and others) are less likely to result in physical dependence, except for phencyclidines and analogs, and vary in terms of psychological dependence, ranging from none to moderate (MDMA) to high (phencyclidine and analogs). Tolerance can develop. Possible effects include heightened senses, teeth grinding, and dehydration (with MDMA and analogs) and hallucinations, altered perception of time and distance in other types of hallucinogens. Overdose may result in increased body temperature and cardiac arrest for MDMA and more intense episodes for LSD. Some hallucinogens may result in muscle aches and depression when in withdrawal (MDMA) or may result in drug seeking behavior.

Cannabis (marijuana and hashish / hashish oil). All may result in moderate psychological dependence with THC resulting in physical dependence. Tolerance can develop in all forms. Possible effects include euphoria, relaxed inhibitions, increased appetite, and disorientation. Overdose may result in fatigue, paranoia, and possible psychosis. Withdrawal may occasionally result in insomnia, hyperactivity, and decreased appetite.

Anabolic Steroids (testosterone and others) may result in psychological dependence. Less is known as to their potential for physical dependence and increased tolerance levels. Possible effects may include virilization, edema, testicular atrophy, gynecomastia, acne, and aggressive behavior. Effects of overdose are unknown. Withdrawal may include depression.

Inhalants (amyl and butyl nitrite, nitrous oxide, and others) vary in their level of psychological dependence, with less known about their potential for physical dependence and tolerance. Possible effects may include flushing, hypotension, and headache, impaired memory, slurred speech, drunken behavior, vitamin deficiency, and organ damage. Overdose may result in methemoglobinemia, vomiting, respiratory depression, loss of consciousness, and death. Withdrawal may result in agitation, trembling, anxiety, insomnia, vitamin deficiency, confusion, hallucinations, and convulsions.

D. Campus Programs and Resources

Academic Year 2021 – 2022 Education Opportunities

- Additional programs scheduled throughout the academic year. Events can be found by contacting Student Involvement at (920) 4898-5483 or by following the link below: https://www.nwtc.edu/student-experience/student-involvement/student-events-activities

Campus Resources: Students

NWTC counseling is a free service that is available to students who are enrolled in at least 3 credits or more per semester. To schedule an appointment, call 920-498-5444, or stop in the counseling office located in room SC231 on the Green Bay campus.

Campus Resources: Employees

NWTC recognizes that employees may experience problems in life that may jeopardize their health, family life or job performance. To help employees deal with these problems, the College provides an employee assistance program (EAP) which offers counseling services at no cost to benefit-eligible employees and their family members. The EAP service is paid for by the College and is completely confidential. No one at the College can obtain any information regarding any employee or dependent who voluntarily seeks assistance through this program without the employee's express written consent. NWTC's current EAP provider is the Employee Resource Center (ERC). For more information on the ERC, call 800-222-8590.

Information About Sex Offenders

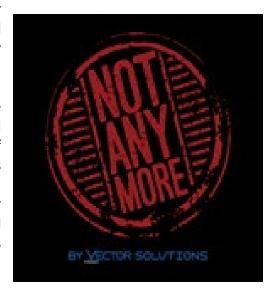

In accordance with the "Campus Sex Crimes Prevention Act" of 2000, which amends the Jacob Wetterling Crimes against Children and Sexually Violent Offenders Registration Act, the Jeanne Clery Act and the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974, NWTC Security is providing a link to the Wisconsin Department of Corrections sex offender registry. This act requires that institutions of higher education issue a statement advising the campus community where law enforcement information provided by the state concerning registered sex offenders may be obtained. It also requires sex offenders already required to register in a state to provide notice of each institution of higher education in the state which the person is employed, carries a vocation, or is a student. Registry information provided under this section shall be used for the purposes of the administration of criminal justice, screening of current or prospective employees, volunteers, or otherwise for the protection of the public in general, children in particular. Unlawful use of the information for purposes of intimidating or harassing another is prohibited and willful violation shall be punishable to the fullest extent of the law.

The Wisconsin Department of Corrections is responsible for maintaining this registry. Follow the link below to access the Wisconsin Department of Corrections sex offender registry website: https://appsdoc.wi.gov/public

Harassment / Sexual Misconduct / Discrimination Policy

The College is bound by, and supports, all applicable laws. The Title IX of the Higher Education Act of 1972 (Title IX) ensures the College does not discriminate based on sex in its education programs and the Campus Sexual Violence Elimination Act (SAVE) of 2013 and Violence Against Women Reauthorization Act (VAWA) ensures that Colleges and universities implement policies and programs to prevent sexual assault, dating violence, domestic violence, and stalking.

NWTC does not discriminate based on gender, national origin, gender identity, or sexual orientation in administration of its educational policies, admissions policies, scholarship and loan programs, and other College administered programs or in its employment practices. Students, instructors, and staff are subject to various federal, state and local laws, which regulate civil and criminal conduct. Title IX of the Higher Education Act of 1972 ("Title IX") prohibits discrimination based on sex in education programs or activities operated by recipients of Federal financial assistance. Sexual assault and harassment are forms of sex discrimination that are illegal under Title IX. Sexual assault is an act of sexual violence, which involves any form of sexual contact or conduct without a person's consent. Title IX and the Campus Sexual Violence Elimination Act of 2013 ensure that Colleges and universities implement policies and programs to prevent sexual harassment, sexual assault, stalking, and relationship-based violence, and hate crimes.

Students are encouraged to direct Title IX questions, concerns, and complaints to the Title IX Coordinator or the appropriate employee or student coordinator. If a Title IX coordinator is alleged to be the person who engaged in discrimination or sexual misconduct, the report may be filed with another office or with the office of the Vice President of Student Services. Complaints can also be filed with the Office of Civil Rights (OCR), U.S. Department of Education. The OCR encourages reporting parties to follow the College process prior to filing a complaint with OCR; however, it is not required. Generally, complaints must be filed with OCR within 180 days of the alleged event.

Consistent with federal and state law and the intended culture of the College, NWTC strives to provide a safe and welcoming campus environment. In order to attain this goal, the College seeks to provide safety, privacy and confidentiality where possible, and support to victims of sexual assault and violence at all NWTC campuses and regional learning centers. NWTC offers educational programming to promote the awareness and prevention of rape, acquaintance rape, sexual assault, sexual harassment, domestic violence, dating violence, and stalking. There are instances where conduct or content of a sexual nature are a legitimate part of the curriculum, whereas the same conduct might be sexual harassment in another context. Reports involving violations of this policy will be taken seriously and incidents will be responded to in a prompt and equitable manner.

Laws and the requirements of this policy affect all relationships within the College community, including, but not limited to:

- Student relationships with other students
- Instructor and staff conduct toward students
- Student conduct toward instructors and staff
- Conduct between members of different gender
- Conduct between members of the same gender
- Conduct toward persons outside the NWTC community may be considered a violation of this policy if the College concludes there is a sufficient connection between the conduct and the College to warrant the College to act
- Conduct between campus visitors and students or employees

NWTC believes in a zero-tolerance policy for gender-based misconduct. When an allegation of misconduct is brought to an appropriate employee or student coordinator's attention, and a responding party has been found to have violated this policy, serious sanctions will be used to reasonably ensure that such actions are not repeated. This policy has been developed to:

- reaffirm these principles
- provide recourse for these individuals whose rights have been violated
- define community expectations
- establish when expectations have been violated

Even if the misconduct did not occur in the context of an education program or activity, NWTC will consider the effects of off-campus misconduct when evaluating whether there is a hostile environment on-campus or in an off-campus education program or activity because students often experience the continuing effects of off-campus sexual violence while on campus or in an off-campus education program or activity. The College cannot address the continuing effects of off-campus sexual violence on campus or in an off-campus education program or activity unless it processes the complaint and gathers appropriate additional information in accordance with its established procedures. The timelines included in this policy may be extended for good cause, which may include but is not limited to the unavailability of witnesses, the complexity of the investigation, or obtaining advocates or counsel or other law enforcement investigations.

Overview of Policy Expectations with Respect to Consensual Relationships

There are inherent risks in any romantic or sexual relationship between individuals with unequal authority (such as an Instructor and student or supervisor and employee). These relationships may be less consensual than perceived by the individual whose position has the authority. The relationship also may be viewed in different ways by each of the individuals, particularly in retrospect. Furthermore, circumstances may change, and conduct previously welcomed may become unwelcomed and a consensual romantic or sexual relationship may no longer be consensual both individuals. For the personal protection of all individuals associated with NWTC, relationships in which there may be real or perceived authority (Instructor-student, staff-student, administrator-student) are prohibited. A consensual romantic or sexual relationship in which there is a direct supervisory or evaluative role over another individual is in violation of the code of conduct. Therefore, persons with direct supervisory or evaluative responsibilities who are involved in such relationships must bring those relationships to the immediate attention of their supervisor, so arrangements to remedy the supervisory or evaluative conflict can be implemented.

Definitions

Student

All persons currently enrolled in courses at NWTC, either full or part-time.

Consent

Consent is informed, knowing and voluntary participation in any desired sexual activity. Sexual intimacy requires that all participants consent to the activity. Consent between two or more people is defined as an affirmative agreement to engage in sexual activity. Consent can be given by words or actions if those words and actions create a clear and mutually understandable permission regarding the conditions of sexual activity. The person giving the consent must act freely, voluntarily, and with an understanding of his or her actions when giving the consent. Lack of protest or resistance does not constitute consent, and silence alone cannot be interpreted as consent. Relying solely on non-verbal communication can lead to misunderstanding. Persons who want to engage in sexual activity are responsible for obtaining consent—it should never be assumed. Consent to one form of sexual activity cannot imply consent to other forms of sexual activity. Previous relationships or consent cannot imply consent to future sexual acts. Consent must be present throughout the sexual activity—at any time, a participant can communicate that he or she no longer consents to continuing the activity. If there is confusion as to whether anyone has consented or continues to consent to sexual activity, it is essential that the participants stop the activity until the confusion can be clearly resolved. A person who is incapacitated cannot give consent to engage in sexual activity. Incapacitation can result from alcohol or other drug use, unconsciousness, blackout, mental disability, sleep, involuntary physical restraint, or from being drugged. A responding party cannot defend a violation of this policy by claiming that he or she was impaired from alcohol or drug use and unable to tell whether the reporting party was incapacitated. The issue is whether a reasonable unimpaired person would know that the other person was incapacitated.

Wisconsin law also states the following individuals are not able to provide consent:

- Individuals who are asleep or unconscious
- Individuals who are unable to communicate consent because of a mental or physical condition
- Individuals who have not reached the age of 18

NWTC may conclude that an instance of sexual contact was sexual harassment because it was without another person's consent, even if that conduct would not meet the standard of a criminal sexual assault. For example, it is possible the College would conclude under some circumstances that a person who was intoxicated on alcohol could not consent and therefore, did not give consent to sexual contact, even though the criminal courts might not reach the same conclusion.

Coercion

Coercion is defined as compelling someone to act based on:

- pressure
- harassment
- threats
- intimidation

When someone makes clear that he or she does not want to engage in sexual conduct, wants it to stop, or does not wish to go past a certain point of sexual interaction, continued pressure beyond that point is coercive.

Retaliation

Retaliating directly or indirectly against a person who has, in good faith, filed, supported, or participated in an investigation of a complaint of sexual misconduct, as defined above, is prohibited. Retaliation includes, but is not limited to, ostracizing the person, pressuring the person to drop or not support the complaint, or to provide false or misleading information, or engaging in conduct that may reasonably be perceived to affect adversely that person's educational, living, or work environment. Retaliation also includes similar conduct engaged in by a third party at the reporting party's or responding party's request. Depending on the circumstances, retaliation may be unlawful and may constitute a violation of this policy, whether the Title IX complaint is ultimately found to have merit.

Hate Crimes

The victim is intentionally selected because of the actual or perceived race, gender, gender identity, religion, sexual orientation, ethnicity, or disability.

Sexual Misconduct

Sexual misconduct is a broad term encompassing any non-consensual behavior of a sexual nature that is committed by force or intimidation, or that is otherwise unwelcome. The term includes:

- sexual assault
- sexual exploitation
- sexual harassment
- stalking
- intimate partner violence
- hostile environment

Sexual misconduct may vary in its severity and consists of a range of behaviors or attempted behaviors. It can occur between strangers or acquaintances, including people involved in an intimate or sexual relationship. Sexual misconduct can occur between members of the same or different gender and can also occur while individuals are fully clothed.

Sexual Assault

Sexual assault is defined very broadly by criminal law. A person does not consent to sexual activity when that person is incapacitated or subjected to coercion. It includes a wide variety of conduct from sexual intercourse to sexual contact, without the consent of the other person. Criminal sexual contact can be as limited as a single instance of touching a woman's breast, buttocks, or genital area, or touching a man's buttocks or genital area, without that person's consent, even if the person touched is fully clothed. Other examples of sexual assault include:

- rape
- acquaintance rape
- forcible fondling
- sodomy (oral or anal intercourse)
- sexual penetration with an object

Sexual Exploitation

Sexual exploitation involves taking non-consensual sexual advantage of another person, even though the behavior might not constitute one of the other sexual misconduct offenses. Examples can include, but are not limited to the following behaviors:

- Distribution or publication of sexual or intimate information about another person without consent, including by means of social media
- Electronic recording, photographing, or transmitting sexual or intimate utterances, sounds, or images without knowledge and consent of all parties
- Engaging in indecent exposure
- Voyeurism Voyeurism involves both secretive observation of another's sexual activity and secretive observation of another for personal sexual pleasure
- Going beyond the boundaries of consent (such as letting your friends hide in the closet to watch you having consensual sex)

Sexual Harassment

Sexual Harassment is defined as unwelcome, gender-based verbal or physical conduct that is sufficiently severe, persistent or pervasive that has the effect of unreasonably interfering with, denying or limiting someone's ability to participate in, or benefit from the College's educational program and/or activities and is based on power differentials. This policy prohibits conduct that would violate federal and state laws. Sexual harassment includes:

- Unwelcome sexual advances or requests for sexual favors
- Unwelcome verbal or physical conduct of a sexual nature
- Making submission to, or rejection of, such conduct a factor in academic or employment decisions affecting the student or employee
- Permitting such conduct to unreasonably interfere with a student's academic performance or an employee's work performance
- Unwelcome sexual advances, requests for sexual favors or other verbal or physical conduct of a sexual nature or submission to or rejection of such conduct results in adverse educational or employment action (Quid pro quo)
- Adverse educational or employment action taken against a person because of the person's participation in a complaint or investigation of discrimination or sexual misconduct (retaliatory harassment)

Stalking

Stalking is a course of conduct directed at a specific person that would cause a reasonable person to feel fear.

Intimate Partner Violence

Intimate partner violence is defined as actual or threatened physical violence, intimidation, or other forms of physical or sexual abuse that would cause a reasonable person to fear harm to self or others. For this policy, "intimate relationship" means marriage, domestic partnership, engagement, casual or serious romantic involvement, and dating, whether in a current or former relationship. Intimate partner violence can be a single act or a pattern of behavior. Intimate partner violence is sometimes referred to as, and includes behaviors that would be considered, dating violence, domestic violence, or relationship violence.

Hostile Environment

Hostile environment includes any situation in which there is harassing conduct that is sufficiently severe, persistent or pervasive such that it alters the conditions of employment or limits, interferes with or denies educational benefits or opportunities, from both a subjective (the alleged victim's) and an objective (reasonable person's) viewpoint.

The determination of whether an environment is "hostile" must be based on all the circumstances. These circumstances may include, but are not limited to:

- The frequency of the conduct
- The nature and severity of the conduct
- Whether the conduct was physically threatening
- Whether the conduct was humiliating
- The effect of the conduct on the alleged victim's mental or emotional state
- Whether the conduct was directed at more than one person
- Whether the conduct arose in the context of other discriminatory conduct
- Whether the conduct unreasonably interfered with the alleged victim's educational or work performance

Other Misconduct Offenses (when gender based)

- Threatening or causing physical harm, extreme verbal abuse, or other conduct which threatens or endangers the health or safety of any person
- Intimidation, defined as implied threats or acts that cause an unreasonable fear of harm in another
- Bullying, defined as repeated and/or severe aggressive behavior likely to intimidate or intentionally hurt, control or diminish another person, physically or mentally

Education and Training

Sexual misconduct awareness and prevention training takes place during student orientation. Additional programs and offerings are available online and through student programming. Resources and training materials can be found on the NWTC web site and the NWTC student handbook. In accordance with NWTC's mission and vision, as well as federal guidelines, training about the policy and procedures regarding sexual assault and relationship violence is recommended to all students and required for all instructors, and staff. Best practices identified through the United States Department of Education and Violence Against Women Act are used to develop awareness programs.

Primary Prevention Programs

NWTC prevention programs are designed to educated students and staff about expectations related to a safe campus environment. Prevention programming may be focused on broad or specific learning outcomes and can be targeted and customized for many different audiences. All new NWTC faculty and staff are required to participate in online or in-person training related to sexual misconduct and harassment. NWTC primary prevention programs include:

- "Not Anymore," an online, interactive training module, provides critical information about consent, bystander intervention, sexual assault, dating and domestic violence and stalking is always available to students through Blackboard and announced during their orientation into the College (all staff and students have access to this training)
- Presentations related to Title IX and relevant training are conducted by Title IX staff for student awareness
- NWTC partners with the Sexual Assault Center for a student awareness event in April during sexual assault week
- A public facing website educates the community and current students about Title IX
- NWTC student organizations are trained on Title IX concepts by Student Involvement
- New employees receive Title IX training during new employee orientation
- "Workplace Harassment Prevention for Employees" within 90 days of hire for all new employees
- September 14th Food for Thought: Retaking Our Story Reframing the Sexual Assault Conversation

Harassment / Sexual Misconduct / Discrimination Procedure

NWTC's policy to address cases of alleged sexual misconduct is designed to:

- Consider the rights of the reporting party, the rights of the responding party, the safety of the community, and compliance with applicable laws and College policies.
- Conduct a timely, fair, impartial, and equitable investigation and adjudication process with thoroughness and respect for all involved parties.
- Protect the privacy of all parties to the extent practical, while balancing the need to perform an investigation, follow the procedures outlined below, comply with applicable law, and maintain campus safety.
- Provide appropriate remedies and sanctions to address the discriminatory effects of sexual misconduct on the reporting party and others.
- Support the needs of the reporting party and responding party in the areas of emotional and mental health, physical well-being, and safety from future violence or retaliation.

In situations where a reporting party insists on confidentiality, the College's ability to respond may be limited. Depending upon the circumstances, the College may not be able to ensure confidentiality because of its obligation to provide a safe and non-discriminatory environment for all students. Factors that may impact the request include the seriousness of the alleged conduct and whether there have been other complaints about the same individual. Confidential resources available to consult with students are listed in this policy.

Once a NWTC employee (non-confidential reporter) has either been told or should have known about an incident(s) of sexual harassment or sexual misconduct, NWTC will:

- Take immediate and appropriate steps to investigate what occurred
- Take prompt and effective action to:
- Stop the harassment
- · Remedy the effects of the behavior
- Prevent the recurrence of said behavior

Student Complaint Procedure

Any student who believes he, she or another student has been the victim of any form of sexual misconduct is encouraged to file a complaint identifying the alleged individual and describing the conduct, incident(s) or occurrence(s) that form the basis for the complaint. Students may file complaints with any NWTC employee, who will then notify the Title IX Coordinator for employees or students. The Title IX Coordinators for student and employees may be interchanged as the investigator if the either Title IX Coordinator is alleged to be the person who engaged in discrimination or sexual misconduct.

Any NWTC staff member can help with filling out the incident report. It is preferred that the complaint be submitted via an electronic incident report. Incident reports can be found at:

https://www.nwtc.edu/about-nwtc/departments/safety-security/file-an-incident-report-or-sexual-misconduct-compl

If, due to a disability, accommodations are needed to assist the student with filing a complaint, please contact: Disability Services at (920) 498-6904. The reporting party is encouraged to file the complaint as soon as possible after the incident to ensure a prompt and effective due process for all the parties involved in the situation.

If the reporting party requests confidentiality or requests that the complaint not be pursued, the Title IX Coordinator (or trained investigator) will take all reasonable steps to investigate the complaint and respond consistently with the reporting party's request. If the College determines that an investigation needs to continue, the alleged responding party will be told that the reporting party requested the College to not proceed. Information will only be shared with individuals responsible for addressing incidents of sexual violence. Prior to disclosing information, the reporting party will be notified of the information to be disclosed, whom it will be disclosed to, and why the information needs to be disclosed. Honoring a request for confidentiality may limit the College's ability to respond to the allegation, including pursuing sanctions and remedies against the responding party(s). In addition, the College will need to determine if the confidentiality request can be honored while providing a safe and non-discriminatory environment. The College will take steps to maintain confidentiality of persons reporting incidents of sexual misconduct and relationship violence in records available for public inspection by using alternative means of identification and not including personally identifiable information in the annual campus security report, campus crime log, and emergency warning notices required under the Clery Act. Requests for confidentiality will be evaluated in the context of the College's responsibility to provide a safe and nondiscriminatory environment for all students.

A reporting party has the option to file a report with local law enforcement. The NWTC Title IX investigator or NWTC Security will offer aid if the individual elects to contact the police. Declining to speak with an investigator or the police at the time of the initial report does not prevent the individual from filing a criminal report or a Title IX complaint at a later date. The NWTC Security may seek the assistance of local law enforcement agencies in the investigation.

The College will not condone false reporting. Any person who makes a report that is later found to have been intentionally given falsely or made maliciously without respect for the truth may be subject to suspension or expulsion.

Initial Remedies

Prior to initiating an investigation, the Title IX Coordinator will contact the reporting party and provide written notification of victim options regarding accommodations and assistance that NWTC can provide, including:

- No contact agreement between reporting party and responding party
- Change in academic and office assignment if requested by reporting party or responding party and reasonably available
- Absence and assignment requirements
- Reguest for leave of absence or withdrawal
- Plan to address safety concerns

A meeting with the reporting party will include explanation of the investigation process and the eventual resolution. The Title IX Coordinator will encourage him / her to participate fully in the investigation and hearing processes as well as provide a list of resources. Students will also be notified of their rights and the process to file a complaint with local law enforcement. Any available accommodations will be offered regardless of the victim's decision to report the incident to local law enforcement. Written notification of reporting and responding party rights are listed below. You have these rights regardless of your race, color, ethnicity, national origin, age, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, physical or mental disability, religion, or any other protected class.

Reporting Party's Rights

- 1. You have the right to a prompt, fair and impartial process from initial investigation to the final result. The process will include: completion within reasonably prompt timeframes without delay, unless extensions are necessary for good cause, which will include a written notification as to the reason for the extension; conducted in a manner that is transparent, provides timely notice of meetings at which you, the responding party or both may be present; provides equal access to you, the responding party and appropriate officials to any information that will be used during informal and formal meetings or hearings; and are conducted by officials who do not have a conflict of interest or bias for or against you or the responding party.
- 2. You have the right to be provided written notification of the result of an institutional proceeding including initial, interim or final decisions; to file an appeal of those decisions; notified of a change to the result; and notified when results become final.
- 3. You have the right to have an advisor present in a support or advisory role during any related meeting or proceeding, however, NWTC may limit the extent to which the advisor may participate in meetings or proceedings.
- 4. You have the right to interim support and reasonable protective measures to help you continue to learn.
- 5. You have the right to involve local law enforcement to initiate a criminal investigation, and if desired, be assisted by NWTC campus authorities in notifying the proper law enforcement agency. You also have the right to decline notifying law enforcement. The choice to notify law enforcement will not have any affect investigations conducted by NWTC. It is important to preserve any evidence of a criminal violation, which will assist in proving a criminal offense or may be helpful in obtaining a protective order through the courts.
- 6. You have the right to have your personally identifying information kept confidential, including any accommodations or protective measures to the extent that maintaining such confidentiality would not impair the ability of NWTC to provide such accommodations or protective measures. Confidentiality will be maintained when NWTC completes Clery Act reporting and disclosure.
- 7. You have the right to NWTC resources that may include counseling, mental health services, health services, victim advocacy, legal assistance, financial aid and other victim services.
- 8. You have the right to eligible resources available in the larger community including counseling, mental health services, health services, victim advocacy, legal assistance, financial and other victim services.
- 9. You have the right to be free from retaliation for exercising your rights to file a complaint.

Responding Party's Rights

1. You have the right to a prompt, fair and impartial process from initial investigation to the final result. The process will include: completion within reasonably prompt timeframes without delay, unless extensions are necessary for good cause, which will include a written notification as to the reason for the extension; conducted in a manner that is transparent, provides timely notice of meetings at which you, the reporting party or both may be present; provides equal access to you, the reporting party and appropriate officials to any information that will be used during informal and formal meetings or hearings; and are conducted by officials who do not have a conflict of interest or bias for or against you or the reporting party.

- 2. You have the right to be provided written notification of the result of an institutional proceeding including initial, interim or final decisions; to file an appeal of those decisions; notified of a change to the result; and notified when results become final.
- 3. You have the right to have an advisor present in a support or advisory role during any related meeting or proceeding, however, NWTC may limit the extent to which the advisor may participate in proceedings.
- 4. You have the right to be free from retaliation.
- 5. You have the right to be treated with respect by NWTC staff throughout the entire process.
- 6. You have the right to privacy, and the assurance that information regarding the complaint will be shared only with those necessary.
- 7. You have the right to be notified of available counseling, mental and physical health services, on and off campus.

Investigation

Throughout the investigation, appropriate support for the reporting party and responding party will be provided. In compliance with guidelines distributed by Office of Civil Rights (OCR), in their 2011 Dear Colleague Letter, NWTC uses a "preponderance of the evidence" (more likely than not) standard for determining responsibility. This is different than the standard used in a criminal investigation.

A preliminary investigation will be conducted to determine if there is reasonable cause to believe a policy was violated. If no reasonable grounds for the complaint are found, the Title IX Coordinator will dismiss the case. The reporting party will be informed why the act does not constitute sexual misconduct and voluntary, informal methods may be used to resolve the complaint. If it is determined by the Title IX Coordinator that there may be some validity to the allegation, a formal investigation will begin immediately.

Sanction Statement

The College reserves the right to take whatever measures it deems necessary in response to an allegation of sexual misconduct to protect students' rights and personal safety. Such measures include, but are not limited to, class schedule modifications, interim suspension from campus pending a hearing, and reporting the matter to the local police.

Not all forms of sexual misconduct will be deemed to be equally serious offenses, and the College reserves the right to impose different sanctions, ranging from verbal warning to expulsion, depending on the severity of the offense. Previous conduct code violations will be considered in determining the appropriate sanction. The College will consider the concerns and rights of both the reporting party and the responding party of sexual misconduct.

The hearing panel reserves the right to broaden or lessen any range of recommended sanctions in the case of serious mitigating circumstances or egregiously offensive behavior. The initial hearing officers, appeals body, or designee may not deviate from the range of recommended sanctions unless there is compelling justification to support a deviation.

Formal Investigation Process

The following process will be used to further investigate allegations:

- a) Upon receiving a complaint, the Title IX Coordinator will facilitate a fact-finding investigation which will include assigning a trained Title IX investigator to review the complaint. The Title IX Coordinator and/or a trained Title IX investigator will conduct interviews with the reporting party, responding party, and other appropriate individuals. The investigation will be prompt, thorough and impartial.
- b) The intent of the interview with the reporting party, responding party and potential witnesses is to determine a true and complete account of the complaint. The following information will be sought during the interview process:
 - The severity of the conduct
 - The number and frequency of acts of alleged harassment
 - The apparent intent of the person alleged to have engaged in sexual misconduct
 - The relationship of the parties
 - The response of the reporting party at the time of the incident(s)
 - The relevant educational/work environment
- c) Periodic updates to the reporting party and the responding party will be provided during the entire process.
- d) All persons involved in a sexual misconduct investigation, will be reminded that the incident is not to be discussed and that retaliatory action against the reporting party, responding party or witnesses will not be tolerated.
- e) The Title IX Coordinator will complete a report detailing the allegations, all evidence collected, statements from the reporting party, responding party and any relevant witnesses to the conduct. The report will include the finding as well as any recommendations for sanctions, if warranted. A written record of the investigation will be made, including all notes made of interviews, conversations, or verbal responses to questions posed by the Title IX Investigator(s) to the reporting party, witnesses or responding party, and any other aspects of the investigation.
- f) Potential sanctions for students who are found responsible for acts of sexual misconduct could be, but are not limited to the following:
 - Disciplinary action up to and including expulsion of a person found responsible for violating these policies.
 - Referral to law enforcement when there is danger or threat to community and/or when requested by victim.
 - Referral to counseling, mental health, and student services both on campus and in the community.
- g) Communication from the Title IX Coordinator regarding the outcome is communicated to the reporting party and the responding party.

All parties have the right to appeal disciplinary decisions and choose to request an appeal to the Vice President, Student Services. The request for an appeal must be made in writing to the Title IX Coordinator and the Vice President of Student Services within five business days of the Title IX Coordinator's decision. Appeals may be requested for two reasons:

- 1. Procedural error / failure to uphold the student's rights that may substantially alter the outcome of the decision.
- 2. New evidence that was unknown or unknowable at the time of the investigation and hearing not previously available.

An appeal must include the name, address and telephone number of the appealing party and a clear statement explaining the nature and circumstances of the appeal, citing the new evidence and/or the explanation with specifics of the alleged lack of fairness in the prior hearing.

The Vice President of Student Services will render and cause a decision to be sent to the student within 7 business days after receipt of the appeal. The appeal decision shall be considered final.

Appeals will be conducted in accordance with the following guidelines:

- The parties will be provided a full and fair opportunity to present evidence relevant to the issues raised by the student relating to the subject matter of the appeal.
- All parties have the right to be assisted by legal counsel at any time during the process.

The appeal decision will be provided in writing and be based solely on the evidence presented in the appeal notice, which will include a summary of the evidence and reasoning for the decision.

Disclosures – FERPA Exemptions

The final results of a disciplinary proceeding will be disclosed to the alleged victim. The results of an investigation or hearing will only include the name of the student, the violation committed, and any sanction imposed by NWTC against the student. NWTC may not disclose the name of any other student, including the reporting party or witness, without prior written consent of the student. More information on disclosure and re-disclosure limitations can be found in the student handbook. The final results of a disciplinary proceeding can be disclosed to anyone if NWTC determines that the student is an alleged perpetrator of a crime of violence or non-forcible sex offense; and with respect to the allegations made against him or her, the student has committed a violation of the institution's rules or policies. However, NWTC may not disclose the name of any other student, including a victim or witness, without the prior written consent of the other student. This disclosure is not subject to the re-disclosure limitation and notice requirements otherwise identified in FERPA.

The Orchards Student Living

The Clery Act defines "on-campus student housing" as:

"student housing facility that is owned or controlled by the institution or is located on property that is owned or controlled by the institution and is within the reasonably contiguous geographic area that makes up the campus."

The Orchards Student Living facility is a privately held entity (land and building). NWTC does not have a direct ownership or operational role. However, NWTC has a written agreement with the owners that provides NWTC students priority in the housing application process. Due to this agreement, NWTC establishes a level of "control" that, by Clery Act definition, requires NWTC to include the facility as part of the Annual Security Report. The Clery Act also requires additional policy, procedure and statistical disclosure related to fire safety (See Annual Fire Report).

The Orchards is operated by a third-party management company retained by facility ownership. NWTC works closely with the management staff to ensure that all required policies, procedures and disclosures are met. The following information is specific to The Orchards as a student housing facility and does not apply to any other NWTC campus locations.

Missing Persons Policy / Procedure

To ensure Clery Act compliance, NWTC is working with The Orchards management staff to develop the policy and procedure necessary to ensure that prompt action is taken if a student is reported missing for 24 hours. Residents of The Orchards can contact NWTC Security at (920) 498-5699 or the third-party management staff at (920) 570-6924 to report a missing student. Security will work directly with the management staff and potentially local law enforcement to locate the missing resident.

Fire Safety Report (The Orchards)

The Higher Education Act (HEA) requires institutions with on-campus housing facilities to:

- 1. Maintain a log of all reported fires that occur in the on-campus housing facilities
- 2. Publish an annual fire safety report containing fire safety policies and fire statistics for the housing facilities
- 3. Submit the fire statistics from the fire safety report to the HEA through the annual Clery Act survey

Definition of a fire - any instance of open flame or other burning in a place not intended to contain the burning or in an uncontrolled manner.

Fire Safety Equipment / Training / Drills

Detection Systems – Smoke detectors are located in each common area, including corridors and community meeting rooms. Within each rental unit, smoke detectors are located in every bedroom and common living spaces. Additionally, the building is equipped with pull stations to manually activate the warning systems.

Warning Systems – Audible alarms and visual strobes are located in each rental unit and in the common corridors and community meeting rooms.

Suppression (control) Systems – The water pump is located in the first-floor maintenance room. The building has a full sprinkler system, covering all common spaces, living spaces and individual spaces (bedrooms). The hallways on each floor have mounted fire extinguishers accessible to all residents, marked by placards.

An annual inspection is conducted by Green Bay Metro Fire Department. Annual testing and maintenance of the equipment is conducted in accordance with the National Fire Protection Association rules (NFPA). Staff conducts quarterly Health and Safety inspections in rooms ensuring safe exits and no accelerants. Fire drills are conducted monthly.

Residents attend mandatory apartment meetings and are provided written and verbal instructions on fire safety. Fire drills are schedule quarterly. Residents are notified in advance and are provided instructions.

Evacuation Policy and Procedures

Evacuation Routes are posted throughout the facility. Employees and residents are not expected to fight fires and are encouraged not to use the fire extinguishers unless designated to do so and trained appropriately. Those trained may use an extinguisher to fight a small fire that presents little risk of harm to personal safety. Residents are expected to leave their room and walk to nearest stairwell, descending to the ground floor and then leave building from nearest safe exit. All exits are clearly marked with illuminated signs. All residents meet in the parking lot across the street (NWTC Campus) until fire department issues all-clear signal.

Per federal law, NWTC is required to annually disclose statistical fire data for "On Campus Student Housing". If you encounter a fire at The Orchards, please contact NWTC Security at (920) 498-5699 to report when safe to do so and to notify The Orchards management / staff (see below), who will also report all fires to the NWTC Security Department for purposes the HEA requirement.

Crime statistics published in this document reflect crimes that are reported to have occurred in one of four federally defined locations. Crimes that are reported to have occurred outside of the following locations are not included in this report. The four federally defined locations are:

- On-campus property is defined as any building or property owned or controlled by an institution within the same reasonably contiguous geographic area and used by the institution in direct support of, or in a manner related to, the institution's educational purposes, including residence halls; and any building or property that is within or reasonably contiguous to campus that is owned by the institution but controlled by another person, frequently used by students, and supports institutional purposes (such as a food or other retail vendor).
- On-campus student housing is defined as any student housing facility that is owned or controlled by the institution or is located on property that is owned or controlled by the institution and is within

- the reasonably contiguous geographic area that makes up the campus. On campus student housing is a subset of on campus property in the crime statistics charts.
- Public property is defined as all public property, including thoroughfares, streets, sidewalks, and parking facilities, that is within the campus, or immediately adjacent to and accessible from campus.

 educational purposes, is frequently used by students and is not within the same reasonably contiguous geographic area of the institution. This category includes property that is outside of Madison, outside of Wisconsin and outside of the United States.
